

THE GAZETTE
Is Constantly Increasing
Its Circulation.

VOL. XXXI.

5 O'clock Edition!

G. A. R. GATHERING.

Rally 'Round the Flag in Detroit.

THE CONTEST FOR COMMANDER.

Immense Parade Promised To-Morrow.

Rivalry Shown for the Next Encampment.

G. A. R. Gathering.

By Associated Press.
DETROIT, Aug. 3.—Veterans of war are arriving by thousands, every incoming train bringing another throng to mingle with the multitude already here. General Veazey of Vermont, Commander-in-Chief, arrived this morning. He is accompanied by Mrs. Clara Barton, founder of the White Cross. Secretary of War Proctor is also of the party.

The grand event of the encampment will be to-morrow's parade, which, it is thought, will be witnessed by 200,000 visitors. Arrivals thus far indicate the encampment will be the largest in the history of the organization. Rivalry is sharp between Washington and Lincoln, in the contest to secure the next encampment. The latter city is making a much better fight for the encampment than anticipated.

S. Morrison, Department Commander of Nebraska in 1889, says Lincoln, which is a town of 5,000 people, claims it can give the G. A. R. as good welcome as any city in the country. Washington, however, seems to have the strongest following, and a majority of the delegates concede it will get the next encampment. Fifty of Lincoln's representative citizens have arrived here and opened headquarters. They will present an invitation backed by a guarantee of $75,000.

Assistant Adjutant General McKinne of Illinois is here in advance of his department. He thinks his State will contribute ten thousand people. Lincoln, Neb., is his favorite place for the next encampment. He says 85,000 old soldiers in Kansas and 4,000 in Nebraska, not members of the G. A. R., are too poor to travel far to attend an encampment. If there is not room in Lincoln the men can spread out upon the prairie.

The most prominent candidates for the position of Commander-in-Chief are A. G. Weissert of Milwaukee, Wis., Col. Smedburg of San Francisco, Brev't Brigadier-General Hurst of Chillicothe, Ohio, and Colonel Lincoln of Michigan. Weissert was a prominent candidate for the position one year ago and withdrew in favor of General Veazey. He probably will get the support of General Veazey's friends, and is a strong candidate. Colonel Smedburg is probably the most enthusiastic G. A. R. man on the Pacific coast. He did much more toward organizing and booming the G. A. R. in California and other Pacific coast States and is very popular throughout the west. He is also a very energetic and enthusiastic Loyal Legion man, and will get the support of members of the Loyal Legion attending the encampment. General Hurst is popularly known as "Fighting Sam" and comes with the unanimous backing of the Ohio delegation. Colonel Lincoln is a well known Michigan man who now holds the position of Deputy Commissioner of Pensions. He will get the unanimous vote of Michigan and may get support from the eastern States. In addition, are mentioned the names of General H. A. Barnum of New York city, General John Palmer of Albany and General Ira M. Hedges of Havistown. A special train from California arrived with Colonel Smedburg and forty or more of his ardent friends on board. They were followed by contingents from Colorado and Wyoming.

Secretary Proctor while in the city will be the guest of General Alger. Secretary of the Treasury, Foster, arrived later in the day. Regular trains from Kansas arrived this morning with 400 veterans, 200 W. R. C. and a large number of citizens. Kansas delegates have a grievance against the railroads. Department Commander W. H. L. Barnes of California is in the city. Commander Barnes is one of the leading lawyers of San Francisco and expects to make a speech to the encampment when he proposes

Reno Evening Gazette.

RENO, WASHOE COUNTY, NEVADA, MONDAY, AUGUST 3, 1891.

ADVERTISERS
Should Bear this Fact in Mind, and Govern Themselves Accordingly.

No. 106.

Colonel Smedburg's name as California's candidate for Commander-in-Chief.

WASHINGTON, August 3.—A delegation arrived in this city this forenoon. The train was gaily decorated in national colors. The delegation is accompanied by a number of prominent ladies.

To-Day's Races.

By Associated Press.
SARATOGA, Aug. 3.—This is the fifth extra day's racing since the meeting opened here. The weather is bright, the track is in fine condition, and the attendance is fair.

One mile—Gold Dollar won, Ayre's Lass second, Willroy third. Time, 1:46½.

Five furlongs—Dr. Hasbrouck won, Little Minnie H. second, Princess Banning third. Time, 1:02.

Mile and one furlong—India Rubber won, Redfellow second, Saunterer third. Time, 1:57.

Six furlongs—Ocypete won, Forerunner, second, Kittle Van third. Time, 1:55.

Five and one-half furlongs—Charade won, Temple second, Prince of Darkness third. Time, 1:10½.

Mile and half a furlong—Golden Reel won, Calcium second, Bulfinch third. Time, 1:51½.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—Track at Garfield Park fast.

Seven furlongs—Nevi C. won, Ora second, Seeke Hardy third. Time, 1:28½.

HAWTHORNE, Aug. 3.—Track fast.

Five furlongs—Addie won, Maud Howard second, Jim Head third. Time, 1:04.

One mile—Hockey won, Ivanhoe second, Toe Steel third. Time, 1:47.

Seven furlongs—Heiterskeller won, Prince second, Marmosa third. Time, 1:34.

BRIGHTON BEACH, Aug. 3.—Track fast.

Five furlongs—Dixie won, Amazon second, Nettie third. Time, 1:03½.

Five furlongs—Fidelis won, Reform second, Clotho third. Time, 1:04½.

Five furlongs—Trump won, Zed second, Raleigh third. Time, 1:29½.

EIGHT-HOUR LAW.

By Associated Press.

OMAHA, Aug. 3.—There has been no fresh trouble at the Omaha and Grant smelters to-day. When the hour for the day shift to go on duty arrived, about 400 men were gathered at the gate, but nobody went to work except half a dozen men who emptied the silver furnaces. As soon as this was done the smelter closed.

The job printers are still out with no prospects of a compromise.

The manufacturers have clubbed together and will test the eight hour law in court.

At noon a number of bricklayers went out for eight hours.

A DEAD POSTMASTER.

By Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, August 3.—John W. Green, Postmaster of this city died early this morning with a combination of diabetes, la grippe and prostration by heat, aged 60 years and a native of Michigan. He came here eight years ago from Washington, D. C., where he had been a long time in the service of the Postoffice Department. He leaves a wife and one son. The latter is private secretary to Colonel Fred Crocker.

Ingersoll's Secretary.

By Associated Press.

CHRONON LANDING (N. Y.), Aug. 1.—Newton Baker, private secretary of Colonel Ingersoll, who was shot on Saturday night by Orville M. Anderson during a quarrel, is still alive at noon to-day. His physicians have only a faint hope of his recovery. Anderson was committed to jail to await the result of Baker's injuries.

Landmark Burned.

By Associated Press.

PALMER (Mass.), August 3.—The Weeks house, an old landmark, was burned early this morning. Rev. Mr. Williams, a retired Congregational minister, was burned to death. Other guests who had a narrow escape lost all their effects. Loss, about $30,000.

Murdered for Money.

By Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 3.—A special to the Post, from Arkansas City, says: Jackson Donnelly, a wealthy farmer, living five miles east of this city, and his wife were found murdered at noon to-day. The supposed motive was robbery.

Bishop Nicholson.

By Associated Press.

MILWAUKEE, August 3.—Rev. Isaac Lea Nicholson's election as Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Milwaukee has been approved by 27 dioceses, a majority of the whole and it is thought his election will be made unanimous.

Uruguayan Finance.

By Cable and Associated Press.

MONTEVIDE, August 3.—The Uruguayan government has issued a decree extending for one month the payment of all claims against the National Bank. During this period the Bourse will be closed.

In the meantime the officers sta-

MERCILESS MASSACRE

Savage Life in South America.

STOCK BROKERS OF BARCELONA.

Fierce Fire and Heavy Loss in Chicago.

Pan-American Transportation Company.

Freebooters of Paraguay.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, August 3.—A morning paper says harrowing details of a terrible massacre of residents of an isolated village in Paraguay by half savageneatives, reached this city by mail.

According to advice, 150 men, women and children were wantonly slaughtered and the butchers celebrated their victory in wild orgies. The affair occurred on the night of March 10th, and the news was delayed in reaching here by lack of facilities for communication with the outside world.

According to the details which were pub-

in La Democra at Assumption,

Paraguay, a band of most lawless natives, angered by some political differences with the residents of the neighboring village of Islapani, descended on the latter place and began the slaughter by an attack on the house of Judge Gannas. The attacking band was headed by the notorious bandit Benito Benites and numbered about fifty.

Arriving at Judge Gannas' house the desperadoes surrounded it and opened fire from the rear. There were but four people there at the time, Judge Gannas' wife, his two sons and daughter. Judge Gannas and another son were absent on business.

The fire was returned by the men in the house, the women aiding them by loading the guns as fast as they were emptied.

When the ammunition of those in the house was exhausted the desperadoes entered and killed the two sons and took the women prisoners.

At the beginning of the attack some of the inhabitants, attracted by the firing, rushed into the streets and fired into the mob, but the desperadoes speedily rushed upon them and their neighbors, pillaging and burning their houses. Humble homes and homes of luxury were destroyed by fire, and not even the churches were spared.

At the Church of the Immaculate Conception mass was being celebrated at the time, and when the desperadoes were denied admission to the church they forced an entrance and waited patiently for the conclusion of the services before they began their bloody work.

The Priest was among the slain, and in looting of the edifice not an article of the slightest value was left by the raiders.

Many who sought to take refuge on the opposite shore of the Paraguay river that flows near the city were devoured by sharks.

The attack on the home of Judge Subeldia, at the other end of the village, was speedily resisted and several raiders were killed, the leaders, Benites and Martinez, being among them.

In all 11 raiders and 150 inhabitants were killed. The latest news from the scene of the terrible slaughter stated that the government troops were pursuing the outlaws.

The losses are as follows:

Siegel, Cooper & Co., $50,000 on stock and $40,000 on building; insurance, $50,000.

The Leader Domburg, Glick & Horner, loss by smoke and water, $100,000, insured. James H. Walker, dry goods; loss by smoke and water, $60,000. C. Heaneck & Co., crockery and brio-a-brac, $40,000; insured for $33,000. Losses to other adjoining buildings and stocks amount to about $30,000, mostly insured.

The losses are as follows:

Siegel, Cooper & Co., $50,000 on stock and $40,000 on building; insurance, $50,000.

The Leader Domburg, Glick & Horner, loss by smoke and water, $100,000, insured. James H. Walker, dry goods; loss by smoke and water, $60,000. C. Heaneck & Co., crockery and brio-a-brac, $40,000; insured for $33,000. Losses to other adjoining buildings and stocks amount to about $30,000, mostly insured.

The losses are as follows:

Siegel, Cooper & Co., $50,000 on stock and $40,000 on building; insurance, $50,000.

The Leader Domburg, Glick & Horner, loss by smoke and water, $100,000, insured. James H. Walker, dry goods; loss by smoke and water, $60,000. C. Heaneck & Co., crockery and brio-a-brac, $40,000; insured for $33,000. Losses to other adjoining buildings and stocks amount to about $30,000, mostly insured.

The losses are as follows:

Siegel, Cooper & Co., $50,000 on stock and $40,000 on building; insurance, $50,000.

The Leader Domburg, Glick & Horner, loss by smoke and water, $100,000, insured. James H. Walker, dry goods; loss by smoke and water, $60,000. C. Heaneck & Co., crockery and brio-a-brac, $40,000; insured for $33,000. Losses to other adjoining buildings and stocks amount to about $30,000, mostly insured.

The losses are as follows:

Siegel, Cooper & Co., $50,000 on stock and $40,000 on building; insurance, $50,000.

The Leader Domburg, Glick & Horner, loss by smoke and water, $100,000, insured. James H. Walker, dry goods; loss by smoke and water, $60,000. C. Heaneck & Co., crockery and brio-a-brac, $40,000; insured for $33,000. Losses to other adjoining buildings and stocks amount to about $30,000, mostly insured.

The losses are as follows:

Siegel, Cooper & Co., $50,000 on stock and $40,000 on building; insurance, $50,000.

The Leader Domburg, Glick & Horner, loss by smoke and water, $100,000, insured. James H. Walker, dry goods; loss by smoke and water, $60,000. C. Heaneck & Co., crockery and brio-a-brac, $40,000; insured for $33,000. Losses to other adjoining buildings and stocks amount to about $30,000, mostly insured.

The losses are as follows:

Siegel, Cooper & Co., $50,000 on stock and $40,000 on building; insurance, $50,000.

The Leader Domburg, Glick & Horner, loss by smoke and water, $100,000, insured. James H. Walker, dry goods; loss by smoke and water, $60,000. C. Heaneck & Co., crockery and brio-a-brac, $40,000; insured for $33,000. Losses to other adjoining buildings and stocks amount to about $30,000, mostly insured.

The losses are as follows:

Siegel, Cooper & Co., $50,000 on stock and $40,000 on building; insurance, $50,000.

The Leader Domburg, Glick & Horner, loss by smoke and water, $100,000, insured. James H. Walker, dry goods; loss by smoke and water, $60,000. C. Heaneck & Co., crockery and brio-a-brac, $40,000; insured for $33,000. Losses to other adjoining buildings and stocks amount to about $30,000, mostly insured.

The losses are as follows:

Siegel, Cooper & Co., $50,000 on stock and $40,000 on building; insurance, $50,000.

The Leader Domburg, Glick & Horner, loss by smoke and water, $100,000, insured. James H. Walker, dry goods; loss by smoke and water, $60,000. C. Heaneck & Co., crockery and brio-a-brac, $40,000; insured for $33,000. Losses to other adjoining buildings and stocks amount to about $30,000, mostly insured.

The losses are as follows:

Siegel, Cooper & Co., $50,000 on stock and $40

Reno Evening Gazette

ALLEN C. BRAGG,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.
PUBLISHED EVERY EVENING, EXCEPT SUNDAY.

RATES OF ADVERTISING.
Daily, one square for one month, $5.00
Weekly, one square for one month, $1.25
Cards of thanks, memorial and obituary notices will hereafter be charged for at the rate of ten cents per line.

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.
Daily, one year (by mail), $6.00
Weekly, one year (by mail), $2.00
DAILY, delivered by carrier to any part of Reno (per week), $2.00

Monday.....August 3, 1891

THE Ohio Democrats, having in their platform expressed the belief that the verdict of the people of that State will be "recorded against the iniquitous policy of so-called protection, championed by the Republican party," the Cleveland Leader asks what was the condition of this country before the "iniquitous policy" was put in force, and for an answer quotes the declarations of President Buchanan in his message of December 8, 1857, in which he said: "In the midst of unsurpassed plenty in all the productions and in all the elements of natural wealth, we find our manufacturers suspended, our public works retarded, our private enterprises of different kinds abandoned, and thousands of useful laborers thrown out of employment and reduced to want." The Leader declares that the Democratic party abolished protection, and Democratic President Buchanan, in the above words, gave the results of that piece of Democratic folly. On the other hand, "the iniquitous policy of so-called protection" has stimulated manufacturing enterprises so that they dot our land in all directions, furnishing employment to millions of people; and instead of the balance of trade being against us, our foreign commerce shows a very satisfactory balance in our favor.

THERE is but one way to get good prices for beef cattle and that is to have good cattle. The decline in values the past week at the great markets of the East is simply the natural effect of the foolish action of shippers. Several western trainloads were on the market that should have been held on the range until October. The shipment of unripe beefes is double robbery—it robs the owners thereof and everyone else who has cattle by the lowering of values all along the line.

So far as the San Francisco market goes it does not matter much for she is not in it any more.

THE GAZETTE has called attention several times to the narrow-minded business policy of San Francisco's business men toward Nevada. A city situated so favorably geographically as San Francisco is ought to be able to control the trade of the whole coast, but she is losing the confidence of the people and don't control a tenth part of it. She is selfish and will not touch a proposition that does not show two dollars for every one invested, and should be let alone by the people of this State, for goods of all kinds can be bought much cheaper at the East.

HENRY CLEWS, discussing the effect of large crops at home and short crops abroad on the stock market, says: "We are in a position to furnish Europe close upon, or possibly, fully one-half its total required imports of wheat. This means that this one item of our exports will amount to something near $200,000,000."

This will set off the $75,000,000 gold we have shipped to Europe in the current year and leave over $120,000,000, on wheat exports alone to the credit of the United States.

MRS. LELAND STANFORD's trust deed, giving $100,000 to endow five kindergartens in San Francisco, has just been filed. As the income will be 5 per cent. each school will get $1,000 a year. These schools are said to have already had an appreciable effect in reducing the number of hoodlums who infest the streets of San Francisco, and in bettering the condition of the tenement-house districts.

THE Lassen County Advocate's attempt to cry down the artesian well of Dr. Gridley is narrow and far-fetched to say the least. A paper published in Susanville one would think would try to build up and not tear down, but as the proprietors of the Advocate are interested in another scheme for roping in outside money, perhaps it can be explained by the simple word jealousy.

"KISSED BY THE SUN."
The Red-Haired Maiden Is Fit to Be Queen or Devil.

Did you ever stop to think how few red-haired people there are in the world? Take any town, for instance, of three thousand or four thousand population, and out of that number there will be only between one hundred and two hundred whose heads are red, and by "red heads" I mean those of a tint varying from sandy to dark auburn. So you see that a red head is really a rare avis, and should be appreciated as such, says a writer in the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

All Indian tribes pay homage to ruddy locks, and never venture to lay hands on them, regarding the possessors of such as "children of the sun," hence objects of veneration, not to be rudely violated or suddenly scalped. The members of some savage tribes, found in heathen countries, where the sun, moon and stars are worshipped, have been known to fall down in awe-some homage at the feet of a belated traveler, mummeling them and kissing them, while the traveler trembled in his boots, expecting every moment to be slaughtered. The frightened traveler could, with difficulty, be made to understand that his head, the bane of his childhood, the never-ending butt of ridicule in maturity years, had not only saved his life, but made him worthy to die a god.

In many countries red hair in itself entitles a woman to the claim of beauty. In Italy the most beautiful women and the depraved have possessed locks "sun-kissed by the sun." Lucretia Borgia, whose name is the synonym of horror, was red-haired. Cleopatra, Antony's conqueror, had hair which gleamed like burnished copper in the sun, "skin, which shone like pearl, so white, so white." In other words, she was a seductive, passion-enthralling, auburn-haired woman, of such a type as could only have been bewitched and turned poor Antony from the path of virtue and duty. None of your commonplace—brown-haired, dark-eyed, lassies, nor your insipid languid, blue-eyed, blonde-haired maidens, nor the black ones, with their swarthy skins and jet-like eyes, would have had the power.

The devil, when he wished to tempt the pious hermit in his lonely desert, where all his other arts and wiles had failed, took the form of a woman "clothed only with a vail of darkest red hair," which "twined and twisted," we are told, "like snakes of copper," curling themselves about the poor man's neck and breast like "things alive," while her wristlike cheeks got passion-flushed against his own.

Curiously enough, although the archetype of intense passion is red hair, it is also the type of the highest purity. We have it from Josephus, as well as from sacred narrative, that the Saviour had curling auburn locks, a singularly clear white skin and tender, soulful eyes of gray. His virgin mother was, also, auburn-haired. So the two extremes meet.

HORSES TO BATHE.

Blue-Blooded Aristocrats in the Surf at Coney Island.

The most aristocratic of Coney Island's many visitors, the first to come and the last to go, are the blue-blooded racers from the Gravesend stables, says the New York Recorder. There can be no doubt of their pretensions to noble ancestry, and their fame is known to all the world. These distinguished visitors have already inaugurated the bathing season and have given an air of life and vivacity to the beaches in spite of the cold weather.

"Go soak your feet," they are told, and instead of taking the suggestion as an insult, as human aristocrats would take it, they wade into the breakers and seem to enjoy softening their hoofs.

The best time to see the race horses bathe is between five and six o'clock.

They come trooping down to the beach in all sorts of picturesque costumes.

Some are swathed from head to tail in blanket suits of gigantic plaids or gaudy reds or yellows. Others affect low-cut dusters of modest colors, and a few come stripped, with nothing on but their low shoes. The beauties step daintily down to the very edge of the water, and then, like fashionable bathers, they hesitate. The waves look cold and wet. Sir knight rises, as if to leap the ocean, and then plunges in with a great splinter and splash that wrecks the bare legs of the colored boy on his back. He chucks the water into foam about him and whirls suddenly as if for a true start. My lady goes in a step at a time, and draws back coyly from each threatening wave. She knows better than to plunge, and is coaxed, not driven. If she is only timid she hangs her head and shivers, with the feet all buncheted up beneath her. If she is very brave she goes out into deep waters and turns her tail to the combiners.

It is great sport for the crowd in the pavilion when the water is full of horses. The spectators applaud when a groom, in spite of his shouting and yanking, is carried out upon dry land, and if a rider gets a bucketful of water in his face they howl with delight.

When the bath is over and the wet clothes are stripped off, the flyers roll and wallow in the dry sand. They shake themselves, leap playfully to the end of their bridle-reins and roll again.

Twenty roll at once, and when they spring up they send the sand flying in every direction. They are athletes, every one of them, and as graceful as kittens in their horseplay. When they are finally ridden off to their stables they don't need a bracer to keep them from catching cold.

Adaptability of American Women.

French and American women, according to Max O'Rell, have certain striking points of resemblance, especially in the matter of tact and adaptability to circumstances. If a French milliner were to be placed among cultivated people for an hour she would be able to talk, walk and behave like the most refined society woman in the room. The same is true, says our French critic, of an American woman, of no social advantages, who would in an amazingly short time perform the honors as mistress of the white house with ease and grace. English women rarely adapt themselves easily to social positions to which they have not been bred.

French and American women, according to Max O'Rell,

have certain striking points of resemblance, especially in the matter of tact and adaptability to circumstances. If a French milliner were to be placed among cultivated people for an hour she would be able to talk, walk and behave like the most refined society woman in the room. The same is true, says our French critic, of an American woman, of no social advantages, who would in an amazingly short time perform the honors as mistress of the white house with ease and grace. English women rarely adapt themselves easily to social positions to which they have not been bred.

French and American women, according to Max O'Rell,

have certain striking points of resemblance, especially in the matter of tact and adaptability to circumstances. If a French milliner were to be placed among cultivated people for an hour she would be able to talk, walk and behave like the most refined society woman in the room. The same is true, says our French critic, of an American woman, of no social advantages, who would in an amazingly short time perform the honors as mistress of the white house with ease and grace. English women rarely adapt themselves easily to social positions to which they have not been bred.

French and American women, according to Max O'Rell,

have certain striking points of resemblance, especially in the matter of tact and adaptability to circumstances. If a French milliner were to be placed among cultivated people for an hour she would be able to talk, walk and behave like the most refined society woman in the room. The same is true, says our French critic, of an American woman, of no social advantages, who would in an amazingly short time perform the honors as mistress of the white house with ease and grace. English women rarely adapt themselves easily to social positions to which they have not been bred.

French and American women, according to Max O'Rell,

have certain striking points of resemblance, especially in the matter of tact and adaptability to circumstances. If a French milliner were to be placed among cultivated people for an hour she would be able to talk, walk and behave like the most refined society woman in the room. The same is true, says our French critic, of an American woman, of no social advantages, who would in an amazingly short time perform the honors as mistress of the white house with ease and grace. English women rarely adapt themselves easily to social positions to which they have not been bred.

French and American women, according to Max O'Rell,

have certain striking points of resemblance, especially in the matter of tact and adaptability to circumstances. If a French milliner were to be placed among cultivated people for an hour she would be able to talk, walk and behave like the most refined society woman in the room. The same is true, says our French critic, of an American woman, of no social advantages, who would in an amazingly short time perform the honors as mistress of the white house with ease and grace. English women rarely adapt themselves easily to social positions to which they have not been bred.

French and American women, according to Max O'Rell,

have certain striking points of resemblance, especially in the matter of tact and adaptability to circumstances. If a French milliner were to be placed among cultivated people for an hour she would be able to talk, walk and behave like the most refined society woman in the room. The same is true, says our French critic, of an American woman, of no social advantages, who would in an amazingly short time perform the honors as mistress of the white house with ease and grace. English women rarely adapt themselves easily to social positions to which they have not been bred.

French and American women, according to Max O'Rell,

have certain striking points of resemblance, especially in the matter of tact and adaptability to circumstances. If a French milliner were to be placed among cultivated people for an hour she would be able to talk, walk and behave like the most refined society woman in the room. The same is true, says our French critic, of an American woman, of no social advantages, who would in an amazingly short time perform the honors as mistress of the white house with ease and grace. English women rarely adapt themselves easily to social positions to which they have not been bred.

French and American women, according to Max O'Rell,

have certain striking points of resemblance, especially in the matter of tact and adaptability to circumstances. If a French milliner were to be placed among cultivated people for an hour she would be able to talk, walk and behave like the most refined society woman in the room. The same is true, says our French critic, of an American woman, of no social advantages, who would in an amazingly short time perform the honors as mistress of the white house with ease and grace. English women rarely adapt themselves easily to social positions to which they have not been bred.

French and American women, according to Max O'Rell,

have certain striking points of resemblance, especially in the matter of tact and adaptability to circumstances. If a French milliner were to be placed among cultivated people for an hour she would be able to talk, walk and behave like the most refined society woman in the room. The same is true, says our French critic, of an American woman, of no social advantages, who would in an amazingly short time perform the honors as mistress of the white house with ease and grace. English women rarely adapt themselves easily to social positions to which they have not been bred.

French and American women, according to Max O'Rell,

have certain striking points of resemblance, especially in the matter of tact and adaptability to circumstances. If a French milliner were to be placed among cultivated people for an hour she would be able to talk, walk and behave like the most refined society woman in the room. The same is true, says our French critic, of an American woman, of no social advantages, who would in an amazingly short time perform the honors as mistress of the white house with ease and grace. English women rarely adapt themselves easily to social positions to which they have not been bred.

French and American women, according to Max O'Rell,

have certain striking points of resemblance, especially in the matter of tact and adaptability to circumstances. If a French milliner were to be placed among cultivated people for an hour she would be able to talk, walk and behave like the most refined society woman in the room. The same is true, says our French critic, of an American woman, of no social advantages, who would in an amazingly short time perform the honors as mistress of the white house with ease and grace. English women rarely adapt themselves easily to social positions to which they have not been bred.

French and American women, according to Max O'Rell,

have certain striking points of resemblance, especially in the matter of tact and adaptability to circumstances. If a French milliner were to be placed among cultivated people for an hour she would be able to talk, walk and behave like the most refined society woman in the room. The same is true, says our French critic, of an American woman, of no social advantages, who would in an amazingly short time perform the honors as mistress of the white house with ease and grace. English women rarely adapt themselves easily to social positions to which they have not been bred.

French and American women, according to Max O'Rell,

have certain striking points of resemblance, especially in the matter of tact and adaptability to circumstances. If a French milliner were to be placed among cultivated people for an hour she would be able to talk, walk and behave like the most refined society woman in the room. The same is true, says our French critic, of an American woman, of no social advantages, who would in an amazingly short time perform the honors as mistress of the white house with ease and grace. English women rarely adapt themselves easily to social positions to which they have not been bred.

French and American women, according to Max O'Rell,

have certain striking points of resemblance, especially in the matter of tact and adaptability to circumstances. If a French milliner were to be placed among cultivated people for an hour she would be able to talk, walk and behave like the most refined society woman in the room. The same is true, says our French critic, of an American woman, of no social advantages, who would in an amazingly short time perform the honors as mistress of the white house with ease and grace. English women rarely adapt themselves easily to social positions to which they have not been bred.

French and American women, according to Max O'Rell,

have certain striking points of resemblance, especially in the matter of tact and adaptability to circumstances. If a French milliner were to be placed among cultivated people for an hour she would be able to talk, walk and behave like the most refined society woman in the room. The same is true, says our French critic, of an American woman, of no social advantages, who would in an amazingly short time perform the honors as mistress of the white house with ease and grace. English women rarely adapt themselves easily to social positions to which they have not been bred.

French and American women, according to Max O'Rell,

have certain striking points of resemblance, especially in the matter of tact and adaptability to circumstances. If a French milliner were to be placed among cultivated people for an hour she would be able to talk, walk and behave like the most refined society woman in the room. The same is true, says our French critic, of an American woman, of no social advantages, who would in an amazingly short time perform the honors as mistress of the white house with ease and grace. English women rarely adapt themselves easily to social positions to which they have not been bred.

French and American women, according to Max O'Rell,

have certain striking points of resemblance, especially in the matter of tact and adaptability to circumstances. If a French milliner were to be placed among cultivated people for an hour she would be able to talk, walk and behave like the most refined society woman in the room. The same is true, says our French critic, of an American woman, of no social advantages, who would in an amazingly short time perform the honors as mistress of the white house with ease and grace. English women rarely adapt themselves easily to social positions to which they have not been bred.

French and American women, according to Max O'Rell,

have certain striking points of resemblance, especially in the matter of tact and adaptability to circumstances. If a French milliner were to be placed among cultivated people for an hour she would be able to talk, walk and behave like the most refined society woman in the room. The same is true, says our French critic, of an American woman, of no social advantages, who would in an amazingly short time perform the honors as mistress of the white house with ease and grace. English women rarely adapt themselves easily to social positions to which they have not been bred.

French and American women, according to Max O'Rell,

have certain striking points of resemblance, especially in the matter of tact and adaptability to circumstances. If a French milliner were to be placed among cultivated people for an hour she would be able to talk, walk and behave like the most refined society woman in the room. The same is true, says our French critic, of an American woman, of no social advantages, who would in an amazingly short time perform the honors as mistress of the white house with ease and grace. English women rarely adapt themselves easily to social positions to which they have not been bred.

French and American women, according to Max O'Rell,

have certain striking points of resemblance, especially in the matter of tact and adaptability to circumstances. If a French milliner were to be placed among cultivated people for an hour she would be able to talk, walk and behave like the most refined society woman in the room. The same is true, says our French critic, of an American woman, of no social advantages, who would in an amazingly short time perform the honors as mistress of the white house with ease and grace. English women rarely adapt themselves easily to social positions to which they have not been bred.

French and American women, according to Max O'Rell,

have certain striking points of resemblance, especially in the matter of tact and adaptability to circumstances. If a French milliner were to be placed among cultivated people for an hour she would be able to talk, walk and behave like the most refined society woman in the room. The same is true, says our French critic, of an American woman, of no social advantages, who would in an amazingly short time perform the honors as mistress of the white house with ease and grace. English women rarely adapt themselves easily to social positions to which they have not been bred.

French and American women, according to Max O'Rell,

have certain striking points of resemblance, especially in the matter of tact and adaptability to circumstances. If a French milliner were to be placed among cultivated people for an hour she would be able to talk, walk and behave like the most refined society woman in the room. The same is true, says our French critic, of an American woman, of no social advantages, who would in an amazingly short time perform the honors as mistress of the white house with ease and grace. English women rarely adapt themselves easily to social positions to which they have not been bred.

French and American women, according to Max O'Rell,

have certain striking points of resemblance, especially in the matter of tact and adaptability to circumstances. If a French milliner were to be placed among cultivated people for an hour she would be able to talk, walk and behave like the most refined society woman in the room. The same is true, says our French critic, of an American woman, of no social advantages, who would in an amazingly short time perform the honors as mistress of the white house with ease and grace. English women rarely adapt themselves easily to social positions to which they have not been bred.

Reno Evening Gazette

Monday August 3, 1891

TIME TABLES.

The following tables give the time of arrival & departure of passenger trains at Reno
ARRIVE.	DEPART.	ARRIVE.	DEPART.
12:00 P. M., No. 1, Eastbound Ex. - 10:15 A. M.	4:00 P. M.	12:00 P. M., No. 2, Westbound Ex. - 10:15 A. M.	4:00 P. M.
9:15 P. M., No. 1, Eastbound Ex. - 4:45 P. M.	4:30 P. M.	9:15 P. M., No. 2, Westbound Ex. - 4:45 P. M.	4:30 P. M.
9:05 P. M., No. 1, Express - 12:45 P. M.	9:15 P. M.	9:05 P. M., No. 2, Express - 12:45 P. M.	9:15 P. M.
No. 3, Local Passenger - 12:45 P. M.	12:45 P. M.	No. 4, Local Passenger - 12:45 P. M.	12:45 P. M.
In & Out.		In & Out.
Express and Freight - 9:45 A. M.		Express and Freight - 9:45 A. M.
12:45 P. M., Express and Freight.		12:45 P. M., Express and Freight.

Time of Arrival and Departure of Mails at Reno.

MAIL FOR	CLOSED	ARRIVED
San Francisco and Sacramento through each	A.M. 4:00	P.M. 10:15
San Francisco, Sacto and intermediate points.	8:30	9:15
Orono, all connecting points.	8:30	11:45
7:30 A. M. and all northern points.	8:30	9:45
Sparks and all points north.	12:00	12:45
Bodie Meadows, State Head every Monday.	12:00	11:30
(Arrive every Saturday.)

JOTTINGS.

A fast age—Moccasins, if it is good, Go to Thurston's for the handy, quick-fried, bottle of hold-fast mucilage.

In the last six months $75,000 in gold has left this country. This looks as if the palace-car porters were asleep or something. Board at the Riverside Hotel and look pleasant.

Mrs. Gibbs sells all of Mrs. Graham's cosmetics. Try Roseme and Cucumber and Elder Flower Cream, which are unequalled for softening and whitening the skin. This is the time in the year to use them.

Hotel Proprietor—"You say you work for another. Your face seems familiar to me. Weren't you a guest at this hotel last year?" "Yes, sir. I have come around to get my money back." Take your lunch at Jake Hecker's with a schooner of beer, all for 15 cents.

Get Rid of that Bad Taste.

When you wake up in the morning with a bad taste in your mouth, with your throat and tongue dry and a yellow coating on the teeth and gums, don't imagine it was all caused by what you ate the night before. Of course everybody does that and everybody "swears off" from again eating garlic food. The trouble is that your liver is clogged, your kidneys are overworked and your bowels are not doing their duty. Take from three to ten of Brandreth's Pills and note the sudden and wonderful change in your system.

Prognostic Heptoleps, Yet Moved.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Wat taken a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My Husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles; it has cured me and I thank God I am now a well and healthy woman." Trial bottles free at W. Pinniger's druggist, regular size 50 c. and $1.

From San Antonio.

AND HORNUNG, a well known manufacturer of boots and shoes at 820 Nolan St., San Antonio, Texas, will soon forget his experience with an attack of the cramps which he relates as follows: "Was taken ill in a room in a pension house which I believe would have caused my death, had it not been for the prompt use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy. I was so ill I could not get to where I was, did not eat, hardly any sleep, always a pain in the main stay of my family." For sale by J. B. McCullough, Druggist.

Good Looks.

Good Looks are more than skin deep, depending upon a healthy condition of the vital organs. If the liver be inactive, you have a bilious look, if your stomach is disordered you have a dyspeptic look and if your kidneys be affected you have a pinched look. Secure good health and you will have good looks. Electric Blisters is the great alternative and Tonic Blister on those vital organs. Cures Pimpled Blotches, boils and gives a good complexion. Sold at Wm. Pinniger's druggist, 50 c. per bottle.

Spring Fever.

At this season of the year the most vigorous and hearty people often have a feeling of weariness, tired and worn out, without any apparent cause, and are apt to put themselves in a pensive and listless state. What you require is a mild tonic medicine that will act gently on the liver and blood, and for this Dr. Shiloh's Pile Remedy, which acts directly on the parts affected, absorbs tumors, alays Hysteria, removes aches and pains, and cures piles. Dry yourself or mail treatise free. Dr. Shiloh, Piqua, O. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson.

A sure Cure for Piles.

Shiloh's Piles are known by moisture, like perspiration, causing intense itching when warm. This formula, Dr. Shiloh's Pile Remedy, yield at once relief. Dr. Shiloh's Pile Remedy, which acts directly on the parts affected, absorbs tumors, alays Hysteria, removes aches and pains, and cures piles. Dry yourself or mail treatise free. Dr. Shiloh, Piqua, O. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson.

HOTEL

Baby cried,
Mother sighed,
Doctor prescribed : Castor oil!

THAT HACKING COUGH can be so quickly cured by Shiloh's Cure. We guarantee it. For sale by S. J. Hodgkinson.

WILL YOU SUPPORT with Dyseseps and Liver Complaint? Shiloh's Vatizer is guaranteed to cure you. For sale by S. J. Hodgkinson.

SILHOL'S NIGHTS, made miserable by that terrible cough. Shiloh's Cure is the remedy for you. For sale by S. J. Hodgkinson.

CATARACT CURE—Health and sweet breath secured, by Shiloh's Cataract Remedy. Price 25 cents. Nasal Inhaler free. For sale by S. J. Hodgkinson.

For lame back, side or chest use Shiloh's Purse Plaster. Price 25 cents. For sale by S. J. Hodgkinson.

SHILOH'S VITALIZER is what you need to aid the Consumption, Loss of Appetite, Consumption, and all forms of Dyspepsia. Price 25 cents per bottle. For sale by S. J. Hodgkinson.

CROUP WHOOPIG COUGH and Bronchitis immediately relieved by Shiloh's Cure. For sale by S. J. Hodgkinson.

AMEDEE.

The Business Men of Reno
Take a Day's Outing.

What is Being Done to Reclaim Honey Lake Waste Land.

Yesterday morning at 8 o'clock about fifty of Reno's most prominent citizens met at the depot of the N. & C. R. R. on invitation of the management to take a ride to Amdeee, the northern terminus of the road. Among those present were the following gentlemen: Gov. R. K. Colcord, Hon. J. W. Haines of Douglas county, Hon. A. E. Cheney, Pres. S. A. Jones of the University, Prof. Orvis Ring, Lieutenant J. M. Neal, Regent H. L. Fish, Regent E. T. George of Lander county, Hon. A. Nicholls of Los Angeles, W. D. Phillips, W. S. Bander, J. S. Sears, E. D. Kelley, S. O. Wells, C. H. Stoddard, M. Nathan, Donald McKay, Richard Ryland, Dr. J. W. Phillips, Mr. Van Harlonger, Frank Lewis, J. M. Fulton, Master of Transportation of the N. & C., John Quinn, E. B. Monroe, A. J. Chalmers, Rob Moore, James Moran, United States Surveyor-General G. F. Turturini, Dr. Wagar, Louis Dean, H. J. Berry, B. C. Shearer, J. L. Linn, Sheriff Wm. Caughlin, R. S. Osburn, H. Manning, Jas. Mayberry, John Michael, Ex-Governor Frank Bell, J. T. Davis of Mound House, Chas. Gulling, H. F. Pavola, T. A. Smith, Joe Zeigler, Ollie Ferry, R. Hawcroft, L. S. Greenlaw, S. T. Burch, A. T. Bird and others. Conductor Taylor's

"ALL ABOARD"

Was heard at 8:15, and the company boarded the three pretty little coaches and Engineers Smith pulled open the throttle and the merry throng were soon climbing the mountains. As the train wended its crooked way to the summit, Reno and the Truckee meadows looked like a panorama, and under his management it has been extended on north to Amdeee. The run to Long Valley was made in a little over two hours, and there the train stopped long enough to take on the Hon. John M. Rhodes, Frank M. Rowland and John Doyle and then sped on to the terminus, making the run of 80 miles in 3 hours and 7 minutes. After leaving Doyle in Long Valley a nice lunch was served in the cars, and by the time that was disposed of the whistle for Amdeee gave warning that the end of the track was near at hand.

AMDEEE

Has no loafers or tramps, but everybody is busy and prosperous. L. W. Brabec, the boniface and "Mayor of the city," has demonstrated the fact that the good things of life come to those who wait; for he has been on the desert, surrounded by a nice little farm for many years and at last the N.-O. O. has come to his door and he is coming money.

D. C. Brown keeps a stock of general merchandise and is doing a thriving business. Bob Ash, well known in Reno, is kept busy in the employ of W. H. Earl, forwarding and commission business. S. M. Sampson is the company's agent. The town, or more properly speaking the village, contains a hotel, saloon, store, blacksmith shop, stable and the company's buildings—that is an office, freight house and water tanks, and although the situation is by no means

A SHADE GROVE

Of trees, the buildings are neat and the place has a prosperous air that is refreshing. After a short stop at the station, the company boarded hay wagons and were hauled out to the arid land well laced by Dr. Grisley of San Francisco, a distance of about three miles. The doctor could not have bored into mother earth in a more uninviting and parched up country. While the land is rich, the soil deep and productive, nothing but grease wood adorns the plains to day and that even looks as if it wanted a drink of water, and it is getting it by the energy displayed by San Francisco capital, for the well throws a stream variously estimated at from 6 to 8% miner's inches constantly and has been for two or three weeks. The flow was struck at a depth of 254 feet, and will carry to a height of nine feet above the surface. The above cut of the well is taken from a photograph by the GAZETTE's artist, taken on the spot yesterday, but the embankment is this reporter's own invention, and is put in the picture in the hope of giving the promoters of this most landable undertaking a new idea. If, for instance, an embankment was

THROWN UP FROM THE OUTSIDE

To a height of six or seven feet, say 600 feet in diameter around the well, would it not make a reservoir of sufficient storage capacity to irrigate ten times the acreage that can be reclaimed by the well without the reservoir?

The soil is of such a character that it will retain moisture and will not drink up the water as more porous land would do. One quarter of an inch will, we think, irrigate an acre of ground. At all events, the fact has been demonstrated now beyond a doubt that the arid land on the east side of Honey Lake is situated over a fine artesian belt and that a constant and living supply of God's pure gift to man can be had by boring for it, and Dr. Grisley proposes to bore many more wells, and, in fact, he has another that is down now to a depth of about 200 feet and is being pushed down as fast as very CRUDE MACHINERY, Operated by hand, can push it, and it is expected that by to-morrow or next day the workmen will strike a living flow.

The GAZETTE expects to see all the desert land in Honey Lake Valley the prosperous and happy home of thousands of people in a few years, for Dr. Grisley has struck the key-note of success in making productive land that always has been considered worthless, only for winter grazing and very poor had for that purpose.

Lassen county had a few more Dr. Grisley's land would transform the waste wastes to gardens of great productivity. While we are writing on this subject we will throw out a hint to the doubting Thomas' in Nevada and invite them to go north and learn a lesson from Dr. Grisley's work. Here we have a living stream of water running to Pyramid Lake to be drank up by evaporation, doing no one any good, and there he is boring into

NATURE'S FOUNTAIN

And satisfied if he gets a little. After returning from the well an hour was put in in inspecting the hot springs that bubble up around Amdeee. Johnny Michaels, to post himself on his future prospects, began testing the temperature of the water as it boiled up from the springs. The metal-cased thermometer, when plunged in, rose rapidly and registered 202 degrees, boiling at a lower temperature than at sea level. Governor Colcord tried it in the steam bath house, where it registered 104 degrees.

There is no better road in the United States than that little narrow gauge from Chat or Moran north. Mr. Gest came here with 50 years' railroad experience and took the line at Chat, and under his management it has been extended on north to Amdeee. The GAZETTE hopes to be able to tell its readers that work has again been commenced and that the road will be pushed up into Surprise Valley in the near future. Mr. Gest is a man of sets, not words, and hence the GAZETTE can say nothing as yet.

The run home was made in three hours, arriving here at 4:30, and all voted that the day had been equally and profitably spent by the visit to Amdeee who was near at hand.

A Valuable Acquisition to Reno.

Frank R. Cady of Susanville is in Reno. Prof. Ring went to the capital this morning.

J. T. Davis returned to Mound House to-day.

Lloyd Tevis passed east on the overland this morning.

Governor Colcord returned to Carson this morning.

Mr. J. H. Bonner of Cedarville arrived in Reno last evening.

Mr. Coates returned to his home in Winnemucca this morning.

Hon. J. W. Haines returned to his home in Douglas county this morning.

Judge Rising passed through this morning from San Francisco to Virginia City.

Dr. W. H. Patterson arrived from Cedarville last evening and is at the Riverside.

Mrs. W. T. Cressler and Miss Nellie Cressler of Cedarville arrived in Reno last night.

Mr. Evans, the singer, has returned to Reno to make it his home and will be employed by R. W. Parry as here this morning.

Hon. Evan Williams and Hon. D. B. Lyman of Virginia City spent Sunday in Reno and returned home this morning.

Ed. Vanderbilt, private secretary to His Excellency, Governor Colcord, and sister returned from California yesterday morning.

Miss Jessie Ford passed through Hot Springs to Verdi on Saturday night, destined for San Francisco on a month's vacation.

The salary of the Principal was fixed at $140 per month, and the teacher other than him at $80. And it was ordered that the services of all teachers formerly employed in the Eureka school, except the Principal, be discontinued.

The salary of the Principal was fixed at $140 per month, and the teacher other than him at $80. And it was ordered that the services of all teachers formerly employed in the Eureka school, except the Principal, be discontinued.

The salary of the Principal was fixed at $140 per month, and the teacher other than him at $80. And it was ordered that the services of all teachers formerly employed in the Eureka school, except the Principal, be discontinued.

The salary of the Principal was fixed at $140 per month, and the teacher other than him at $80. And it was ordered that the services of all teachers formerly employed in the Eureka school, except the Principal, be discontinued.

The salary of the Principal was fixed at $140 per month, and the teacher other than him at $80. And it was ordered that the services of all teachers formerly employed in the Eureka school, except the Principal, be discontinued.

The salary of the Principal was fixed at $140 per month, and the teacher other than him at $80. And it was ordered that the services of all teachers formerly employed in the Eureka school, except the Principal, be discontinued.

The salary of the Principal was fixed at $140 per month, and the teacher other than him at $80. And it was ordered that the services of all teachers formerly employed in the Eureka school, except the Principal, be discontinued.

The salary of the Principal was fixed at $140 per month, and the teacher other than him at $80. And it was ordered that the services of all teachers formerly employed in the Eureka school, except the Principal, be discontinued.

The salary of the Principal was fixed at $140 per month, and the teacher other than him at $80. And it was ordered that the services of all teachers formerly employed in the Eureka school, except the Principal, be discontinued.

The salary of the Principal was fixed at $140 per month, and the teacher other than him at $80. And it was ordered that the services of all teachers formerly employed in the Eureka school, except the Principal, be discontinued.

The salary of the Principal was fixed at $140 per month, and the teacher other than him at $80. And it was ordered that the services of all teachers formerly employed in the Eureka school, except the Principal, be discontinued.

The salary of the Principal was fixed at $140 per month, and the teacher other than him at $80. And it was ordered that the services of all teachers formerly employed in the Eureka school, except the Principal, be discontinued.

The salary of the Principal was fixed at $140 per month, and the teacher other than him at $80. And it was ordered that the services of all teachers formerly employed in the Eureka school, except the Principal, be discontinued.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—U. S. Govt Report, Aug. 17, 1889.

Royal Baking Powder</b

FIFTY CENTS PER WEEK.

AL classes of legitimate advertisements, not exceeding six lines, inserted in this column for fifty cents per week.

Wanted.
A COMPETITIVE HOTEL CHAMBER-
maid. Wages $5 per month, stand-employment. References required. Apply to Donaldson & Babcock, Wadsworth, Nev.
August 1.

Stray Colt Found.
AT LAUGHTON'S SPRINGS, SATURDAY night, August 8th. Best of music furnished by Knight & Hastings' combination.
J. A. AVANZINO.

Wanted.
A SITUATION AS CHAMBERLAIN IN A hotel or lodging house or light work in private family. Address Mrs. F. J. Franklin,
Reno, Nev. jy271*

Agents Wanted.
FREE PREPAID OUT TO ENERGETIC
men. Several of our salesmen have earned from $70 to $100 a week for years past.
P. O. Box 137, New York. jy271*

Piano Tuning.

G. WHEDDING, THE PIANO TUNER,
will attend to any order left at the store of C. A. Thurston. Get your instrument put
in order. jy271

Horse Lost.
A BIG SORREL HORSE BRANDED G
on shoulder, bare footed and halter
straps missing from my place.
A liberal reward will be given for information
that will lead to his recovery.
A. BENNETTE.

Good Farm Lands
FOR SALE, IN QUANTITIES TO SUIT
the purchasers, at $15 per acre. Centrally situated in Sierra Valley. The lands are in cultivation. For further informations address Abe Ede, Beckwith, Plumas
county, Cal. jy271

Fotograf Gallery.
WISHER & WENDER, SUCCESSORS TO
the late W. W. Wender, the leading photographers of Nevada. The best work ever done in the State guaranteed. Cabinets only $3.00 per dozen. Call and see samples.
jy271

The Silver State Restaurant
IS ALWAYS IN THE LEAD. THE BEST of meals served for 25 cents. The property is well equipped with choice vegetables and fruits and polite attendants are always at your service. jy271

Cardboard Signs
OF ALL KINDS FOR SALE AT REA-SONABLE PRICES AT THE GAZETTE OFFICE.

Choice Residence Property
FOR SALE, ONE-HALF MILE FROM
the Railroad Depot and one-fourth mile from the State University. Water with the property. If you wish to make a home and see me. R. F. LEETE.

Rooms For Rent.
A SUIT OF TWO ROOMS FOR RENT;
A suitable for a lawyer or doctor. Inquire
at the GAZETTE office. jy271

Our Family Physician.
A HANDSOME BOUND BOOK OF 48
pages, giving symptoms of all diseases
and recognized treatment according to four different schools, will save $50 in doctor's bills
in one year. Given away free in THE WEEKLY
GAZETTE and STOCKMAN one year $2.

E. C. LEADBETTER,
DEALER IN

Choice Family Groceries,
COUNTRY PRODUCE, POULTRY,
GAME, BUTTER, AND EGGS.

Fine Fruits, Maple Sugar, Ba-
nanas, Nuts Candies, Etc.

Fine Teas & Coffees a Specialty.

Goods delivered to any part of town free of charge. NO. 57 COMMERCIAL ROW, RENO, NEV.

The Reno Creamery!

ON THE GOULD RANCH, ONE MILE
EAST of Reno. Now in full operation
and ready to receive all the milk offered.

Patrons will get full return from their milk in

Gilt Edged Butter.

The trade is invited to inspect the Creamery, and orders are respectfully solicited.

Gould's Dairy Wagons

Supply customers in Reno daily with fresh milk, and will receive orders for butter.
jy271 W. H. Gould, Prop'r.

Notice To Creditors.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE
State of Nevada, in and for the county o
Washington.

NOTICE is hereby given by the undersigned, administrator of the above named estate, that the creditors and all persons having claims must advise themselves to exhibit the same, with the necessary vouchers, within ten months after the first publication of this notice, in the office of the First National Bank Building, room 7, Reno, Nevada.
RICHARD H. SINGLETON,
BENJAMIN CURLER,
Attorney for Administrator.
Reno, June 10, 1891. jy271

Notice to Creditors.

STATE OF ANDREW J. HUTCHINSON,
deceased.

NOTICE is given to all persons who have claims or demands against the estate of Andrew J. Hutchinson, deceased, to present the same, with the proper vouchers and proofs,
to Charles T. Bender, at the First National Bank of Reno, Nevada, for allowance, within ten months after the first publication of this notice. All claims or demands which have been filed in the office of the First National Bank Building, room 7, Reno, Nevada,
will be disregarded. A. T. BENNER,
Administrator of said Estate.
Dated this July 10, 1891. im

SOCIETY MEETING

Reno Chapter No. 1, R. A. M.

THE STATED CONVOCATIONS OF RENO
Chapter No. 1, R. A. M., are held at Mc-
Murry's Hall, the first and third Friday
of each month, commencing at 8 o'clock sharp.
All scouring compensations is good standing are specially invited to attend. By order of the R. A. M. W. L. McMurtry, Secretary.

First-class Job Printing

at San Francisco prices at

the GAZETTE office

MISCELLANEOUS.

Health is Wealth!

UNCLE SAM'S TREASURES.

How They Are Secured Against Pilfering Fingers.

The Vaat Riches of the National Museum,
Apparently at the Mercy of Thieves, Yet Perfectly
Safe.

Dr. C. C. West's nerve and brain treatment,
a guaranteed specific for Hydrocephalus,
Meningitis, Neuralgia, Fits, Neuralgia, Headache, Nervous Prostration caused by the use of alcohol or tobacco, Weakness, Mental Depression, Software,
Insanity, Decay and Disease in insanity in old age, Decay and Disease in premature Age, Barrenness, Loss of Power in either sex, Involution, Losses and Shortage caused by over-indulgence. Each box contains one month's treatment, $1.00 a box, or six boxes for $5.00, sent by mail on receipt of price.

Wanted.

A COMPETITIVE HOTEL CHAMBER-
maid. Wages $5 per month, stand-
employment. References required. Apply
to Donaldson & Babcock, Wadsworth, Nev.
August 1.

Stray Colt Found.

CAME TO MY PLACE IN THE POWNING addition, one room cost about four years old hotel. E. C. on cost about four years.
Owner will prove property and pay charges.
jy271

AVANZINO,

Wanted

A SITUATION AS CHAMBERLAIN IN A
hotel or lodging house or light work in private family. Address Mrs. F. J. Franklin,
Reno, Nev. jy271*

Agents Wanted.

FREE PREPAID OUT TO ENERGETIC
men. Several of our salesmen have earned from $70 to $100 a week for years past.
P. O. Box 137, New York. jy271*

Piano Tuning.

G. WHEDDING, THE PIANO TUNER,
will attend to any order left at the store
of C. A. Thurston. Get your instrument put
in order. jy271

Horse Lost.

A BIG SORREL HORSE BRANDED G
on shoulder, bare footed and halter
straps missing from my place.
A liberal reward will be given for information
that will lead to his recovery.
A. BENNETTE.

Good Farm Lands

FOR SALE, IN QUANTITIES TO SUIT
the purchasers, at $15 per acre. Centrally situated in Sierra Valley. The lands
are in cultivation. For further informa-
tions address Abe Ede, Beckwith, Plumas
county, Cal. jy271

Fotograf Gallery.

WISHER & WENDER, SUCCESSORS TO
the late W. W. Wender, the leading photographers of Nevada. The best work ever done in the State guaranteed. Cabinets only $3.00 per dozen. Call and see samples.
jy271

Cardboard Signs

OF ALL KINDS FOR SALE AT REA-SONABLE PRICES AT THE GAZETTE OFFICE.

Choice Residence Property

FOR SALE, ONE-HALF MILE FROM
the Railroad Depot and one-fourth mile from the State University. Water with the property. If you wish to make a home and see me. R. F. LEETE.

Rooms For Rent.

A SUIT OF TWO ROOMS FOR RENT;
A suitable for a lawyer or doctor. Inquire
at the GAZETTE office. jy271

Our Family Physician.

A HANDSOME BOUND BOOK OF 48
pages, giving symptoms of all diseases
and recognized treatment according to four different schools, will save $50 in doctor's bills
in one year. Given away free in THE WEEKLY
GAZETTE and STOCKMAN one year $2.

E. C. LEADBETTER,

DEALER IN

Choice Family Groceries,

COUNTRY PRODUCE, POULTRY,
GAME, BUTTER, AND EGGS.

Fine Fruits, Maple Sugar, Ba-
nanas, Nuts Candies, Etc.

Fine Teas & Coffees a Specialty.

Goods delivered to any part of town free of charge. NO. 57 COMMERCIAL ROW, RENO, NEV.

The Reno Creamery!

ON THE GOULD RANCH, ONE MILE
EAST of Reno. Now in full operation
and ready to receive all the milk offered.

Patrons will get full return from their
milk in

Gilt Edged Butter.

The trade is invited to inspect the Creamery, and orders are respectfully solicited.

Gould's Dairy Wagons

Supply customers in Reno daily with fresh
milk, and will receive orders for butter.
jy271 W. H. Gould, Prop'r.

Notice To Creditors.

STATE OF ANDREW J. HUTCHINSON,
deceased.

NOTICE is given to all persons who have claims or demands against the estate of Andrew
J. Hutchinson, deceased, to present the same, with the proper vouchers and proofs,
to Charles T. Bender, at the First National Bank of Reno, Nevada, for allowance, within ten months after the first publication of this notice. All claims or demands which have been filed in the office of the First National Bank Building, room 7, Reno, Nevada,
will be disregarded. A. T. BENNER,
Administrator of said Estate.
Dated this July 10, 1891. im

SOCIETY MEETING

Reno Chapter No. 1, R. A. M.

THE STATED CONVOCATIONS OF RENO
Chapter No. 1, R. A. M., are held at Mc-
Murry's Hall, the first and third Friday
of each month, commencing at 8 o'clock sharp.
All scouring compensations is good standing
are specially invited to attend. By order of the R. A. M. W. L. McMurtry, Secretary.

First-class Job Printing

at San Francisco prices at

the GAZETTE office

MISCELLANEOUS.

Health is Wealth!

UNCLE SAM'S TREASURES.

How They Are Secured Against Pilfering Fingers.

The Vaat Riches of the National Museum,
Apparently at the Mercy of Thieves, Yet Perfectly
Safe.

Few people who gaze upon the treasures treasured within the fragile glass cases near the main entrance of the National museum dream that any material protection guards them from burglars and predatory paws, save that a watch is kept as a matter of course by persons in charge, says the Washington Star.

Gold and silver by the hundred weight are there exposed to view, while the intrinsic and historical value of the exhibits mounts up into the millions. Yet all is open, widely, thin sheets of crystal between the long robe and functionaries frequenting it.

Among the habitués was a lawyer named Spolar, whose skill at billiards was surprising. Prince Talleyrand had such pleasure in seeing Spolar play, he felt such confidence in his game, that he invited him one day to his house and presented him to one of his friends, the general receiver for the department of the Voges, also a great billiard player, and very proud of his talent.

A bet was made, a solemn match was engaged between Spolar and the receiver, who lost in a few hours forty thousand francs. You see it is sometimes useful to know how to play billiards.

One of the most curious types of the Cafe Tortoni was Prevost, one of the waiters, whose spine was as supple as his conscience, and who never approached you unless bowed to the ground, and asking in his softest tones:

"Pardon me! A thousand pardons!
Is monsieur good enough to desire anything?"

It was exquisite. What was no less so to him—was that in giving change
he kept the best part of it for himself;
if detected by chance he had but to repeat:

"Pardon me! pardon me! a thousand pardons!"

Nowadays the Cafe Tortoni is no longer haunted by diplomats like Talleyrand, but by journalists and men of letters. Toward six o'clock are found now and then gathered around its tables a few men of wit: Albert Wolff, Emile Blavet, Henry Fouquer, and finally Aurelian Scholl, the most brilliant talker of Paris.

OATS are a good feed to make bone
and muscle, but not for egg production.

A CHANGE of food is desirable, as the
fowl tire of one kind if given too long.

A LITTLE flaxseed meal will be found valuable to add to the regular morning

meal.

OATS are a good feed to make bone
and muscle, but not for egg production.

A CHANGE of food is desirable, as the
fowl tire of one kind if given too long.

A LITTLE flaxseed meal will be found
valuable to add to the regular morning

meal.

OATS are a good feed to make bone
and muscle, but not for egg production.

A CHANGE of food is desirable, as the
fowl tire of one kind if given too long.

A LITTLE flaxseed meal will be found
valuable to add to the regular morning